Detailed Action

(modified rejection)

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 1-11, 13-17, 19-36 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, because the specification, does not provide enablement for R2 equal to all heteroalkyl rings and R" in claims 35-36 equal to all heteroalkyl rings. The specification does not enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the invention commensurate in scope with these claims. The claims as recited are broader than the scope of enablement. The specification lacks direction or guidance for placing all of the alleged products in the possession of the public without inviting more than routine experimentation. The applicant is referred to In re Wands, 858 F.2d 731, 737, 8 USPQ2d 1400, 1404 (Fed. Cir. 1988) which includes the incorporation of the 8 factors recited in Ex parte Foreman 230 USPQ 546 (Bd. Of App. And Inter 1986).

There are many factors to be considered when determining whether there is sufficient evidence to support a determination that a disclosure does not satisfy the enablement requirement and whether any necessary experimentation is "undue". These factors include 1) the breadth of the claims, 2) the nature of the invention; 3) the state of the prior art, 4) the level of one of ordinary skill, 5) the level of predictability in the art 6) the amount of direction provided by the inventor 7) the existence of working examples, and 8) the quantity of experimentation needed to make or use the invention based on the content of the disclosure. In re Wands, 858 F.2d 731, 737, 8 USPQ2d 1400, 1404 (Fed. Cir. 1988).

In terms of the breadth of the claims, R2 and R" encompass a much wider grouping of radicals than those radicals synthesized and tested. Compounds are only synthesized where R2 is H and where R' is halogen or alkoxy 2) the nature of the invention is that these compounds are anti-inflammatory and analgesic compounds In terms of the fifth, and sixth, Wands factor, the level of predictability in the art is low, the amount of direction provided by the inventor is poor, since only compounds where R2 equals H, and R" is halogen or alkoxy are synthesized. In terms of the seventh Wands factor, the applicant only provides working examples where R2 is H, and R' is halogen or alkoxy.

In terms of the 8th Wands factors, undue experimentation would be required to make or use the invention based on the content of the disclosure due to the breadth of the claims, the level of predictability in the art of the invention, and the poor amount of direction provided by the inventor. Taking the above factors into consideration, it is not seen where the instant claim is enabled by the instant application.

Claim 28 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, because the specification, does not reasonably provide enablement for the method of treating all diseases related claimed, many of which are unrelated. The specification does not enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to use the invention commensurate in scope with these claims. The claims as recited are broader than the scope of enablement.

The applicant is referred to In re Wands, 858 f.2d 731, 737, 8 USPQ2d 1400, 1404 (Fed. Cir. 1988) which includes the incorporation of the 8 factors recited in Ex parte Foreman 230 USPQ 546 (Bd. Of App. And Inter 1986).

(New rejections)

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 27, 31-36 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

A. In claim 27, line 1, page 5 of the amendment filed 6/2/0/03 the phrase "inflammatory disease, cancer, or pain" is indefinite. What inflammatory diseases, cancers, or pain is the applicant's invention treating? Is applicant claiming that the invention can treat any cancer, any pain, or any inflammatory disease?

B. In claim 31, lines 3, 6; in claim 32, line 3; in claim 33, line 3 and line 7, and in claim 34, line 3, page 7 of the amendment filed 6/20/03, the phrase "general formula" is indefinite.

C. In claim 33, lines 5-6, page 7 of the amendment filed 6/20/03, the phrase "such as a halogen group as defined the specification" is indefinite because it is not clear if L can be leaving groups other than halogen. Additionally the leaving groups must be defined at the claim, not only in the specification.

D. In claim 33, line 7, page 7 of the amendment filed 6/20/03, the phrase "optional oxidation" is indefinite. It is not clear how the final product of claim 33 would be obtained without oxidation.
